STATUS OF PEACE IS PUZZLING

PEACE TERMS FROM SOVIET TO FINLAND
SENT TO STOCKHOLM

BELIEVE MATTER OF PEACE
OR CONTINUED WAR NEAR
FINAL DECISION

By ELMER W. PETERSON.
STOCKHOLM, Mar. 11.—(AP)—Scandinavia held high hopes today that a peace agreement would be reached between Finland and Soviet Russia in their conflict.

Newspapers were unanimous in expressing belief a peace agreement was near at hand, but there was no confirmation that a decision actually had been reached.

The Finnish delegation which went to Moscow last week was reported this morning to have left for home with the peace conditions by way of Stockholm, but the men failed to arrive and Swedes concluded they still were conferring in the Kremlin.

The belief was emphasized in informed quarters that the whole question of peace or continued war now has reached point of final decision and that an announcement can be expected at any time.

Finland's negotiations were generally assumed to have been guaranteed and it was expected that the Finnish public, fearful of a "Finnish Munich," would insist on assurances against renewed Soviet attack if the present hostilities are ended.

Reports of a possible Finnish-Sweden-Norwegian defense union, however, were regarded skeptically.

Some observers said the primary guarantees Finland would want with a peace settlement would be a demilitarized zone along the revised frontier with full opportunity to reconstruct her defenses.

Reported Russian Terms

Here are the terms informed sources say Russia has offered: 1. A new Karelian Isthmus border, leaving Viipuri on the Finnish side but placing a large part of the Mannerheim line in Russian territory.

2. Retention by Russia of islands in the Gulf of Finland but with Hanko, port on the southwestern Finland, and the far northern Finland area remaining to Finland.

German-Italian guarantees, the reports said, would be in addition to all safeguards to Finnish security contained in a peace agreement.

Authorized sources in Berlin said there was no truth in a reported plan for Italy and Germany to guarantee the Finnish state after peace has been restored.

Swedish public opinion against any new attack on Finland in the event of a settlement, it was held, amounts to a tacit guarantee of Swedish assistance should occasion arise again.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—(AP)—Secretary Hull said today Lawrence Steinhardt, ambassador to Moscow, had been seeking information from both Russian and Finnish sources, but added no mediation move was involved.

The American government, Hull said, is not engaged in any sense in mediation of intervention of any kind in the Russo-Finnish war.

Body Found Hanging.

PORT MYERS, Fla., March 11.—(AP)—The body of a man identified as John Monk Saunders, Hollywood screen writer, was found hanging in the closet of his winter cottage at Fort Myers Beach today.

Coroner Roy Lamberton, who examined the body, said there was no doubt that Saunders committed suicide. He said no inquest was necessary.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—(AP)—Secretary Hull said today Lawrence Steinhardt, ambassador to Moscow, had been seeking information from both Russian and Finnish sources, but added no mediation move was involved.

VICE PRESIDENT GARNER HAVING LAID ALL HIS CARDS ON TABLE IN CAMPAIGN SITS BACK, WAITS

By WILLIAM B. ARDERY
WASHINGTON, March 11.—(AP)—Vice President Garner has laid all his cards on the table for the presidential primaries, friends said today, and now will be content to sit back and watch results.

Garner, candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, has entered the April primaries in Illinois and Wisconsin and the Oregon and California races in May.

He approved a slate of California delegates pledged to him Saturday night telegraphing his California friends that his candidacy "is in the hands of the people" for decision either at the Democratic convention or at the November election.

Some of Garner's associates interpreted the statement as an indirect suggestion that President Roosevelt, if he wants a third term, also should give the people

SOLOMON'S FATHER-IN-LAW FOUND

After a decade of search in the sands west of the ancient city of Tanis, Egypt, Prof. Pierre Montet of Strasbourg University on March 2 uncovered before the eyes of Egypt's modern ruler the mummy of Psousen, second king of the 21st dynasty and possibly one of Solomon's many fathers-in-law. Here Professor Montet is shown with the outer sarcophagus in the tomb prior to the opening.

SETTLEMENT ITALIAN
COAL DISPUTE TOLD
HOUSE OF COMMONS

HOPED THIS WILL LEAD TO
RESUMPTION OF MUTUAL
TRADE TALKS

London, March 11.—(AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain, reporting to the house of commons on the progress of the Italian coal dispute, declared today "it may be hoped that the way now has been re-opened for resumption of trade talks to the mutual advantage of the two countries."

Asked whether Britain had been unable to arrange to supply more coal to Italy now, the prime minister said "that no doubt will be the subject of further discussions."

Britain had embargoed exports of German coal to Italy. The Rome government protested.

Britain's reply was to seize Italian ships which left Netherlands ports with German coal. Then Saturday night came sudden announcement of settlement, with Britain releasing 13 Italian ships loaded with German coal which had held at her contraband control point, and Italy agreeing not to send any more ships to Rotterdam for German coal.

He was the former husband of Mrs. Clara Driscoll of Corpus Christi, Texas, who is the Texas Democratic national committeewoman.

ADmits SHOOTING OF
ARMY OFFICER'S WIFE

GALVESTON WOMAN SAYS

MIND WENT BLANK JUST BEFORE KILLING

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 11.—(AP)—Tall, matronly, Mrs. May Walker Burleson, 51-year-old divorcee, was reported by jail attendants to be in a highly nervous state today after police said she confessed she shot and killed Mrs. Richard C. Burleson, wife of her former husband, a U. S. army colonel.

A matron and a trained nurse were kept constantly with the Galveston, Tex., artist and one time avid suffragette, and Police Chief W. H. Rawlinson said a physician would be called in should her condition become worse. She is held on a charge of murder.

Burleson said the prisoner related in a confession yesterday that her mind was filled with thoughts of her "wrecked home," and then went "blank" and then "went black" when she walked into a hotel cafeteria Friday and shot the woman who in 1938 was named by her as correspondent in the Burleson divorce litigation.

Verdict of "Wrecked Home." The chief quoted her as saying: "When that woman (Mrs. Burleson) passed me while I was sitting in the lobby of the mezzanine, the vision of my mother came before me and with it the thoughts of my wrecked home and my mind went black.... I walked in front of the table where she was eating lunch and shot her. No one had to point her out to me. I knew her."

Her mother died two years ago.

BRITAIN AND FRANCE
READY GIVE FURTHER
AID FOR FINLAND

ALL AVAILABLE RESOURCES
BE THROWN INTO CONFLICT
IF FINLAND REQUESTS

LONDON, March 11.—(AP)—Great Britain and France have informed Finland that they are ready "to proceed immediately and jointly to the help of Finland" with "all available resources" if the Finnish government should ask for "further aid." Prime Minister Chamberlain told the house of commons today.

Later a statement from his office said that "the prime minister desires to make it clear that no appeal for further aid has yet been received from the Finnish government."

Chamberlain refused to answer a question whether Britain was "proposing to send troops to Finland" and "if so, are they preparing to violate the neutrality of Norway and Sweden in doing so."

Earlier Britain was disclosed to have refused to convey to Finland Soviet Russian "peace terms of an onerous nature."

As to whether further British-Finnish help for Finland—the allies already are sending material aid—would be tantamount to going to war against Russia, Chamberlain said:

"We have not arrived at that yet."

Asked For Statement

Asked for a statement on the Russian-Finnish negotiations, Chamberlain said:

"The house will be aware that both the French and British governments have sent and are continuing to send material assistance to Finland. This has been of considerable value to the Finnish forces."

Between the city of Viipuri, threatened from the rear by shore attacks, and the Vuaksi river near the center of the Mannerheim line the Finns made many local attacks, the communiqué said.

The Russians were said to have attacked all along the Mannerheim line to Taipale, at the eastern end, and to have been repulsed.

At Kollaanjoki, northeast of Lake Ladoga, "over a thousand" Russians were stated to have been killed.

The Finns said they had repeated their bombing and machine-gunning by air of Russian columns advancing across the ice and islands of the Bay of Viipuri.

As peace talk filled the air it was officially denied that the foreign affairs committee of the Finnish parliament had in any way approved the Russian peace proposals.

RUSSIAN ARMY IS

INVADERS GAIN ADDITIONAL
FOOTHOLES IN VICINITY
OF VIIPURI

HELSINKI, March 11.—(AP)—The Russian army, fighting its way further into Finland even as peace negotiations were underway in Moscow, has scored gains at both ends of the Mannerheim line, the Finnish high command acknowledged today.

With Finland in suspense regarding the peace talks, her people experienced no respite from war. Helsinki had five air alarms during the day, but no bombs were dropped.

The Russians continued attack on the shore of the Bay of Viipuri behind the city of Viipuri at the western end of the Mannerheim line, achieving slight success in several places," the daily army communiqué stated, while at the eastern end, in Lake Ladoga, the invaders captured an island in the Peltajaranta Archipelago.

The communiqué, covering yesterday's military activities, indicated plainly that hostilities were continuing even as Finnish Premier Risto Ryti and three aides were in Russia discussing a possible cessation of hostilities.

CORSICANA, TEX., MCH. 12, 1940

BUSINESS PROSPECTS

The automotive industry, usually our national pace-maker, is reported as getting back into high level production earlier in the season than usual, and more strongly.

Comment on this development is optimistic. Retail demand is expected to absorb the present high level production of cars and trucks, and much more. Some motor executives believe production this year will reach 4,600,000 units, the third largest output in the history of the industry.

Along with the steadily increasing volume of war orders of many kinds, this makes 1940 look like a busy and fairly prosperous year. Because of the unusual stimulants at work, the political campaign may not be so bearish a factor as it has often been.

NOSES AND SNEEZES

Doctors are saying now people shouldn't blow their noses. And this after mothers for generations and generations have been teaching their children to blow 'em. Why, isn't it about the first thing that normal mothers tell normal children to do?

The contrary is now taught in its purest form by otologists (meaning ear-doctors). But even ordinary practitioners nowadays, especially of the younger generation with the latest doctrine from the medical schools, are likely to lecture their patients about it and warn children.

The trouble is that, when a person has a cold, nasal discharges are likely to contain dangerous germs of various kinds, and blowing the nose tends to force them up into the inner ear and into various sinuses, thereby spreading infection and making a lot of trouble. The nasal discharges serve as a useful purpose, and must be got rid of, but the doctors insist that the process should be as gentle and non-explosive as possible, without backfiring.

But there remains the sneezing problem. And if you try to "muffle up" each cough and sneeze, as we used to be taught, isn't a resultant eruption likely to spoil everything?

SICK WITH HATE

There is too much reliance on hate as the motive to drive people in masses today, says Dr. Albert W. Beaven, head of an eastern divinity school. The Christian doctrine of cooperation and good will is sneered at.

So the cult of hate grows. It has become an epidemic disease. And this is no mere figure of speech, Dr. Beaven insists. Hate can become, and has become, as truly a disease as it were a streptococcus, because it affects people's minds and souls instead of their bodies. And yet, in some countries, spreading these hate germs is regarded today as a virtue.

All the more reason, then, why sane people in sane countries should spread the beneficial germs of good will and kindness.

Considering recent developments around the Black Sea, we wonder whether Jason's famous Golden Fleece wasn't an oil well.

When the Finns get through with this war, "they should rest, and faith, they will need it" — which is our favorite sport anyway.

JUST FOLKS

(Copyright, 1937, Edgar A. Guest)

VANISHED WORLD
When I was but a youngster small
There was a man whom I recall
Who went about at dusk each night
With taper stick the lamps to light;

Along the street I watched him pass
And thought as on his way he went
Such work must leave a man content.

But vanished jets and oil soaked wicks
And in their place came carbon sticks,
Which brought together formed an arc,
Fired by a strange electric spark.

The man now did his work by day;
Threw worn out carbon ends away;
Set new and cleaned the globes
Preto! At night the lamps were lit!

Slowly we watched our world decay
And to oblivion slip away.
Task after task accepted then
Gave way before the works of men.

Life moved ahead at swifter pace,
It tolls an easier thing to face.
Until today our children small
Will scarce believe our tales at all.

AIR TONNAGE

Airplanes weighing 150,000 pounds, which is 75 tons are definitely expected for the near future, and there are even plans for an airship of 125 tons.

The latter craft might be compared, in weight and carrying power, to a modern railroad freight car or passenger car. It would have a cruising speed of 300 miles an hour.

Obviously such craft could be useful in warfare, not only for dropping bombs by the hundreds, but for carrying troops. We prefer, though, to think of them as passenger cars. They should be stable and comfortable to a degree now hardly imaginable.

And when those planes or better ones are made, America will make them. The nation that created airplanes has taken the leadership in building and operating them.

ROYAL NAMES

The new Italian princess, infant daughter of Crown Prince Humbert and Crown Princess Marie Jose of Belgium, has just had six names added to the first two given her. Later, she is to have two more, not yet announced.

The first eight names are Maria Gabriella Gennaro Adelaide Adelgonda Giuseppina Felicia Margherita. Thus remembered and honored are Belgian and Italian relatives, the patron saint of Naples, the baby's own patron saint (the one on whose birthday she was born), and so on.

It seems like a long list of names for one little girl, however royal. But it has a good feature. Many children dislike the names their parents choose for them. With such a great choice, even a princess is bound to be pleased with some of her names.

HONEST WRITING.

Congratulations from one writing man to another! The fellow we're congratulating is a lad in the third grade of a school in Oklahoma.

The pupils in his class were asked to write an essay on the month of February, and here is the essay he wrote:

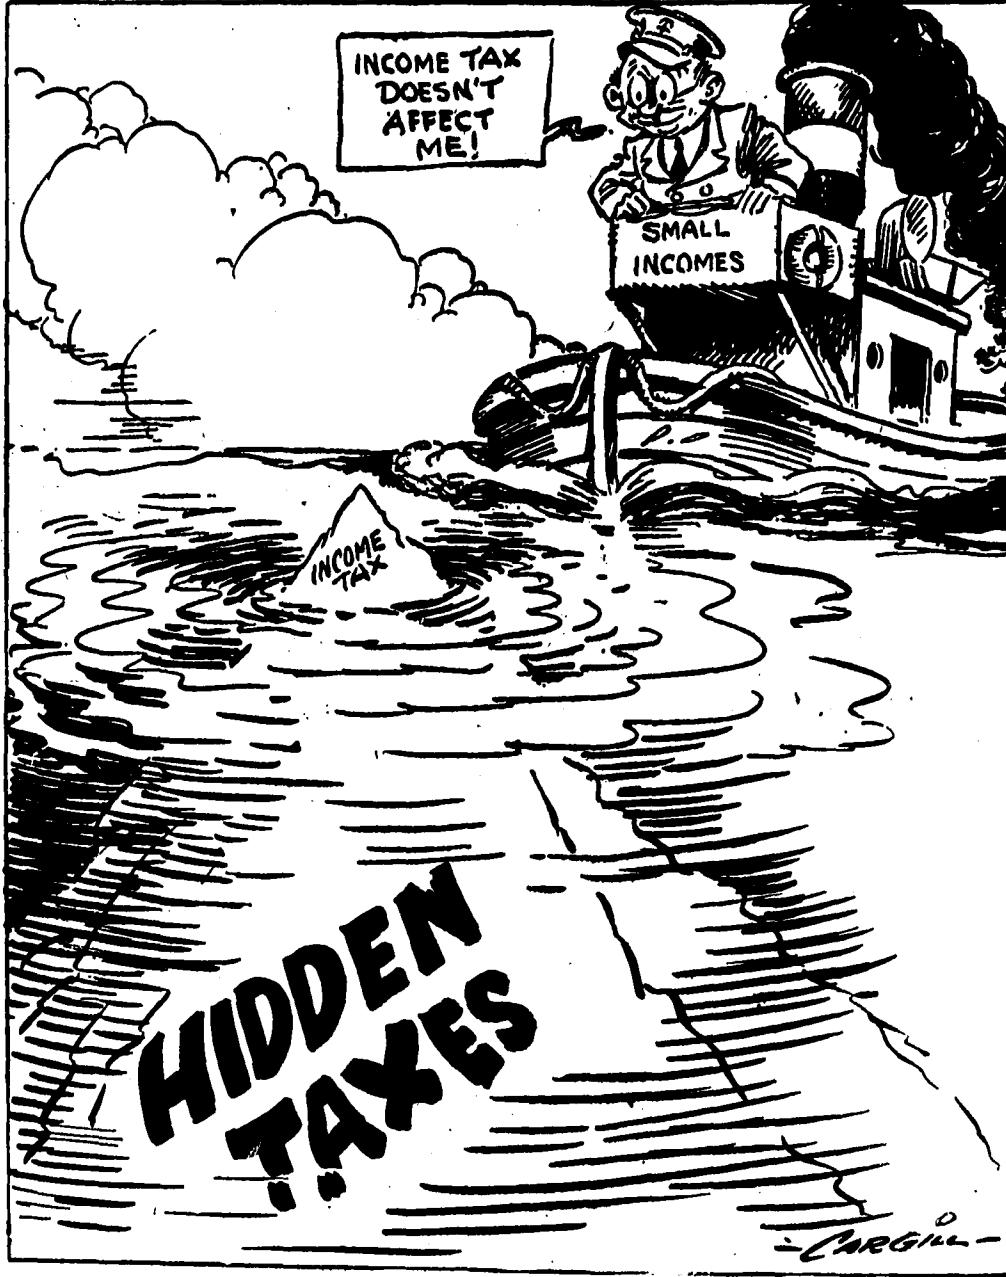

February has a great many birthdays. My dog's is the sixth."

That lad, in all probability, wasn't trying to be funny at all. And it isn't likely that he had any grudge against Abraham Lincoln or George Washington. He was simply preoccupied with the birthday that meant most to him, which was his dog's. He was writing about life as he saw it, in complete sincerity, going straight to the point, stating the main fact and then stopping.

Life was much simpler in the days of the Cave Man; probably safer, too. People didn't fight each other then for crazy ideologies.

We Americans are lucky devils, with nothing to fight about but politics, which is our favorite sport anyway.

O. B. COLQUITT, FORMER GOVERNOR OF TEXAS, IS DEAD

WAS ALSO MEMBER RAILROAD COMMISSION AND STATE LEGISLATURE

DALLAS, March 8.—(P)—Oscar Branch Colquitt, 78, governor of Texas from 1911 to 1915, died at 1:15 a. m. in a hospital here today.

He had been ill ten days with influenza.

Funeral services will be held at 4 p. m. tomorrow at his home, 4905 Live Oak. The body will be taken to Austin tomorrow night, with interment either in the family plot there, or in the state cemetery, as member of his family decide later.

Although Mr. Colquitt suffered a slight stroke several years ago, he was active up to the time of his last illness. Less than two weeks ago he returned from a business trip as a member of the railway division of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

He was recovering apparently and talked cheerfully of returning to duty when members of his family called at his home last night. They were called back to the hospital soon after night, and while they were in his room, he struggled upright in bed and fell over dead.

Long Public Service.

Governor Colquitt's death brought to a close a career of public service that began soon after the close of the reconstruction era that followed the war between the states.

As a native of Georgia, he was educated in the public schools of Georgia and Texas. He organized the National Bank at Terrell, Texas, in 1888. In 1894 he was elected a state senator. From 1903 to 1911 he served as state railroad commissioner, resigning to make the race for governor. He was re-elected in 1913 and retired from public office at the close of his second term as governor.

He came to Texas with his parents in 1878, settling on a farm three miles west of Daingerfield. A short time later, the family moved to Sulphur on the line of Morris and Tishomingo counties, and young Colquitt went to work at odd jobs in Daingerfield. There he worked as porter at the railway station, and in a furniture factory.

Starts Newspaper Career.

There also he started a long career as a newspaperman by going to work as a "printers' devil" under Frank Mitchell on the Morris County Banner. Later he went to Greenville when Mitchell took over the old Greenville Banner, then a weekly newspaper.

On Feb. 13, 1884, Colquitt founded the Pittsburg (Camp County) Gazette. In 1886 he moved to Terrell, Kaufman, county, where for many years he made his home, and established the Terrell Star. His last newspaper venture was in 1893, when he bought a one-third interest in the Fort Worth Gazette.

Colquitt is survived by his widow, the former Alice Murrell, whom he married at Pittsburg, Camp County, Texas, Feb. 13, 1884; three sons, Rawlins M. Colquitt, a state representative; George N. Colquitt, and Oscar E. Colquitt, Jr., all of Dallas; a daughter, Mrs. F. S. Laubach of Kingston, Pa., and three brothers, John M. Colquitt and David T. Colquitt, both of Dallas, and Pierce Colquitt of Corsicana.

Rawlins M. Colquitt of Dallas, son of the one-time governor, has been a state representative from Dallas, Rockwall and Kaufman counties the past six years.

Colquitt's death left the following living former state executives of Texas: James E. Ferguson, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, Mrs. Dan Moody of Austin; W. P. Hobby, R. S. Sterling and Federal Judge James V. Allred of Houston; and Pat M. Neff, president of Baylor University at Waco.

COST SHEETS OF EUROPEAN WAR ARE CONVINCING AMERICANS IT WILL BE COSTLIEST CONFLICT

By W. B. RAGSDALE

WASHINGTON, March 11.—(AP)—The cost sheets of Europe's war, forming a scenic backdrop for America's political drama, are convincing Americans that the most expensive conflict in history.

Great Britain already is spending at the rate of $9,600,000,000 a year. That amounts to 40 cents of every dollar its citizens earn. On a population basis, it would equal a $27,000,000,000 annual budget for the United States, more than double that of any of the high spending depression years.

Britons figure the cost will go up a third for the second year and will double by the third year if war goes on. The third year would reach a point which, if the budget were met out of pocket, would take 80 cents of every dollar earned in Britain—if the earnings came up to those of 1939.

4. Abandonment of Finland to the mercy of the Reds would have a bad effect on the small European neutrals, who might swing toward Hitler.

Germany—Herr Hitler naturally wishes to prevent the establishment of a new allied front in the Baltic zone. He wants to release Russia so as to get badly needed supplies.

And when all's said and done, he dislikes as much as anyone to see the spread of Bolshevik influence westward.

Two Athens Men Prevented Wreck As Bridge Burns

ATHENS, March 11.—W. R. Wals and Percy White were credited during the week-end with preventing a train wreck after fire destroyed the 150-foot bridge of the Texas and New Orleans Railroad over Caney, three miles west of Athens.

Learning of the bridge being destroyed, the two men, both employees of the railroad company, hastened to the spot and flagged an approaching train. A brush fire caused the bridge's destruction. Workmen are rebuilding the bridge.

INCOME TAX

The new fiduciaries sends many a person to a dictionary. Once a man who didn't have any listed $14.20 he won on a horse that came in second.

At "contributions paid" you commence to feel sad that you didn't give more to charity.

After "interest paid" and "taxes paid," you come to "other deductions authorized by law." Here you try to figure out if you can include the doctor's bill, the dog's keep and that $9 you believe you lost out of your pocket. Answer you can't.

The next three items are designed to make you smile again. If you take off 10 per cent if you earned your own income, subtract $2,500 if you are married, and then take credit for dependents.

The baby is good for a $400 deduction, but there is nothing you can do about the brother-in-law you've been boarding for a year and a half.

Item 17 is where the government comes in for the kill. This calls for super-arithmetic, for you have to take four per cent of what's left, and that's just about the tax.

Before you seal the envelope, don't forget to take the report to a notary public. Thousands of persons forget this every year and have to do it all over again.

With the tempo of diplomatic developments increasing, President Roosevelt's fact-finder, Sumner Welles, conferred with British leaders on the fourth major stop of his European swing. He got a fresh view of the war scene.

Since the prospect of peace was raised four days ago, the feeling has persisted in informed quarters at Helsinki that Moscow's police would be costlier than last fall and would be unacceptable.

There has been no indication of a rising Finnish sentiment for a settlement yielding to the Russians what they had sought unsuccessfully before the war.

Press attacks on the Hensink government as a "bloody band of British-French servants," accompanied the Russian high command report today on progress of flanking attacks on both ends of the Mannerheim line.

A Moscow radio broadcast picked up in London claimed: "The war block and the English-French imperialists have for 20 years attempted to draw the Soviet Union into a war, but their attempts will be foiled."

COUPLER CORSICANA RESIDENTS LISTED BIG FARM PAYMENTS

WASHINGTON, March 11.—(AP)—Secretary Wallace reports that approximately 2,500 Texas individuals in 1937-38 received $5,667,334 in payments under the agricultural adjustment act for compliance with the 1937 program.

A check for $112,140 went to the King Ranch in South Texas. It was among the largest issued in the country. Nearly 500 Texans received payments of $2,500 or more, several as much as $25,000. The checks were received during both 1937 and 1938, but all were for the 1937 program.

Among those receiving large amounts from Corsicana and nearby points were L. T. Davis, Corsicana, $2,537; Fred Allman, Corsicana, $1,192; Lynn Carpenter, Dallas, $1,192; John W. Carpenter, Dallas, and T. J. Kennedy, Dallas, former Corsicanas, received $1,183 and $1,040, respectively.

Corsicana Area Is Credited As Source Of Dallas Marijuana

DALLAS, March 11.—(Spl.)—Marijuana, the "loco weed," is flowing in increasing amounts into the hands of Dallas peddlers from various parts of the state, with a good part of the supply coming from the Corsicana area, Walter Stokes, federal probation officer, stated during the week-end.

The soil in the Corsicana area is favorable to the growth of "yellow jackets" and a large number of Mexicans residing there are credited by Stokes with being instrumental in furnishing the product of the crop.

"This marijuana problem is pretty difficult to solve," he commented. "All the growers need to do is drop a few plants into a field, and it develops into a nice and highly dangerous crop. It requires no cultivation, growing by itself, and it is impossible under present conditions to watch every farm," he added.

BURGLARIES SOLVED WITH ARREST OF TWO TARRANT COUNTY MEN

THOUSAND POUNDS OF COTTON SEED AND QUANTITY OF GRAIN STOLEN

County officers Friday pointed out that a number of burglaries in recent months have been solved with the arrest of two Tarrant county men and the filing of charges in this and other counties.

L. C. Cameron and John Darby, alias John Burke, both of Fort Worth, were named in complaints accepted Friday morning at the office of Charles T. Banister, county district attorney, for burglary in connection with the entering of the Sherman Miles premises near Rice last month and the theft of 1,000 pounds of cottonseed. Sheriff Cap Curington Friday said the cottonseed had been sold at Houston.

The two were also named in complaints filed earlier in the week by Judge C. A. Steele's justice court at Richland in connection with the theft of a quantity of oats and millet from the farm of Jack Harris between Richland and Streetman recently.

Sheriff Curington stated that several charges had been lodged against the two men in Freestone and Johnson counties.

Officers in charge of the investigations of these cases included Sheriff Curington, Sheriff Jim Sessions of Freestone county, Deputy Sheriff Jeff Spencer and Constable W. G. Ivey of Richland.

Number CCC Camp Workers Injured As Truck Is Overturned

Fourteen workmen from the Corsicana CCC camp narrowly escaped death about 4 o'clock on Friday afternoon when the truck in which they were riding overturned. Three of the men were in the P. and S. Hospital Friday for treatment of injuries and observation.

R. C. Jernighn, the camp superintendent, said the truck was returning from a work project and had turned off the main highway into the gravel road leading to camp when a hard gust of wind struck the vehicle and it rolled completely over coming to rest right side up. It was later able to regain the road and return to camp under its own power. Mr. Jernighn said examination of the truck showed no mechanical defect.

Five of the occupants of the truck were taken to the hospital for examination and two were later released after treatment. Those remaining in the hospital were:

Fred Floyd, 49, 711 East Tenth avenue, scalp injury and cuts on left hand and arm.

Earline Pierce, 43, Rice, sprains, cuts and other injuries.

Dorothy Holt And Whit Scarborough Wed in Keren's

KERENS, March 9.—(Spl.)—On Thursday, March 7, at 9 a.m. a wedding of much interest to the many friends of the contracting parties took place at the First Presbyterian manse, when Miss Dorothy Holt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Holt of Keren's, became the bride of Whit Scarborough, also of Keren's.

In the attractive living room, with its open fire, and many huge curtains of yellow and white narcissi and jasmines, Rev. Joe N. Everingham performed the nuptial ceremony in the presence of a few close friends. Attendants were Miss Cecil Ross, maid of honor, and Fay Redford, who served as Mr. Scarborough's best man.

The bride was most becomingly gowned in a navy blue crepe two-piece ensemble, with navy cloche hat topped with a white flower and flowing veil. Navy patent and fabric shoes and patent bag were with the bride's gowns.

Both the sentimental suite and "the something old" which is supposed to bring luck to brides, was provided by the white handkerchief, with its border of Belgian rose point lace, which had been used by a close friend at her wedding 34 years ago and which Miss Holt carried.

Miss Ross wore a heavenly blue crepe with rose and blue-stroked spring coat, and rose felt hat. Her accessories were black patent.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Scarborough left in their car for a short honeymoon, after which they will be at home at the apartment in Mrs. K. W. Rowe's home, which awaits them, complete with new furniture and their many wedding and shower gifts all in place.

The bride, who was reared in Keren's, graduated from the Keren's school, and is talented violinist. She is associated with the Keren's patriotic group, and will for a time at least retain her position.

The bridegroom also has spent his entire life in Keren's and is associated with a large firm as traveling salesmen.

Those present at the marriage were: Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sheppard, Mrs. Roy Scarbrough, Mrs. Elwin Howell, Mrs. C. W. White, Virginia Crowley, Miss Margaret Ivey, Mrs. Andrew McClung and Mrs. J. E. Norris of Corsicana.
